

...from applicable providers. The app also features options such as expiry reminders, the ability to schedule your parking time remotely, and email notifications.

Students, faculty, and visitors can now skip the previous queues and purchase moments with PayByPhone at the University of Regina. Acting as an alternative to cash payments, the mobile parking app offers a convenient way for drivers to pay while allowing the university parking system to seamlessly manage a seasonal construction project.

In addition to making payments easier, the app notifies users when their session is expiring, and the ability to extend a parking session remotely.

Drivers who are pressed for time can also receive
